WILSON MAY SAVE MOONEY

BANDAGES ARE SUSPECTED

U. S. Depots Burned—War Must Go On

Tetanus Germs Found In Bandages

No Weight to Hun Peace Offer

PRESIDENT REQUESTED TO INTERFERE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Recommendation that President Wilson use his good offices to induce California authorities to bring about a new trial of Thomas J. Mooney in case the California Supreme Court sustains his conviction for complicity in the San Francisco bomb outrages was made today by the President's mediation commission.

In a report to the President the commission, which has conducted an exhaustive investigation of the trials of Mooney, Warren K. Billings, Mrs. Rena Mooney and Israel Weinberg, declared that this could be done by postponing the execution of the death sentence imposed on Mooney awaiting the outcome of a new trial based upon prosecution under one of the untried indictments against him.

AUSTRIA-RUSS PEACE PROPOSAL MADE

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Austria has declared her readiness to conclude a separate peace without Germany and to accept the Russian democratic program with the exception of self-determination of nations, says a dispatch from Petrograd to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The Bolshevik newspapers today report that great demonstrations are taking place all over Austria-Hungary. Workmen's and soldiers' organizations have been formed at Vienna and Budapest. A big strike has begun at Warsaw.

BERKELEY RED CROSS SEARCH ALL BANDAGES

Sensational disclosures charging German spies with a fiendish plot to infect Red Cross bandages made in Springfield, Ill., with tetanus and anthrax germs have caused redoubled precautions at the Berkeley Red Cross.

Reports current several weeks ago charged that German sympathizers were busy among the Berkeley workers and were contaminating the bandages with disease germs. Federal authorities undertook a searching investigation, but found no grounds for the rumors.

U. S. DEPOTS BURNED AT NEWARK, N. J.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Seven United States depot quartermasters' warehouses and nearly a mile of municipal docks in Newark, N. J., were destroyed by fire today. The storehouses were empty. The New York fireboats saved the plant off the submarine boat corporation, working on government ship contracts from the flames.

Twenty-three men were detained by secret service agents at Port Newark today on suspicion.

WAR MUST GO ON IS U. S. REPLY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26. — The United States and her allies must answer Count Hertling with bayonet and bomb, according to the view of most diplomats and army men today.

While seeing in the peace terms reply of Hertling and Czernin a more conciliatory spirit than any thing heretofore manifested by the Teutons, the general thought here was that Hertling masked thinly the militarist views of Germany.

DEADLY GERMS FOUND IN BANDAGE ROLL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 26.—Tetanus and anthrax germs on a bit of German newspaper were found in the center of a cotton roll prepared for use in France and received at local Red Cross headquarters. Federal authorities are investigating today to ascertain the source of the roll. Dr. Walter G. Bain, pathologist, in his report to United States District Attorney Knotts, said that guinea pigs inoculated with the germs died within five days.

WARNS KAISER OF IMPENDING REBELLION

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 26.—Philipp Scheidemann, president of the Social Democratic party in Germany, answering Chancellor von Hertling's speech in the main committee of the Reichstag, warned the military leaders of the imperial government that if they did not bring about peace between Germany and Russia "they would be hurled from power."

NO PEACE FOUND IN HERTLING SPEECH

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The first impression that Chancellor von Hertling's speech has made on this country, as gathered from public men and the newspapers, is that it throws a searchlight for the nations allied against German militarism upon the

A NEW FOOD MEASURE IS PROCLAIMED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—The American people will go on a war bread diet Monday as a part of a war rationing system prescribed tonight by President Wilson and the food administration. "Victory Bread," the food administration calls it.

The reduced rations are asked for the purpose of creating a larger export surplus of food for the Allies. Curtailment of consumption will be accomplished largely by voluntary effort, but force will be employed wherever permitted under the food control act.

A baker's bread of mixed flours, beginning Monday, with a five per cent substitution of other cereals for wheat, until a twenty per cent substitution is reached February 24.

WILL ORGANIZE BELGIAN RELIEF ASSOCIATION

Work will start tomorrow on perfecing an organization to be known as the Belgian Relief Association, which will take up systematic work in the behalf of the poor and starving children of Belgian. Active organization is in the hands of Mrs. W. A. Boone and Mrs. W. S. Lucas.

The plan is to secure a large number of members who will contribute ten cents a month. The money will not be collected, but will be put in conveniently placed boxes by those who wish to contribute.

Mrs. Boone has received a letter direct from the field, showing that at this time there is an unusual amount of suffering among the Belgian children. Following is an excerpt from the letter:

"Six hundred and eighty children arrived this morning. They were all thin, sickly, alone, starving, between the ages of four and 12. The wavering line seemed to stretch for miles before you, and you seemed to see an endless line coming in from the devastated territory. An American doctor made the medical examinaton and when I talked to him later he was not ashamed of his tears. Those suffering with contagious diseases, like measles, skin infections, etc., were isolated, and the children were then arranged for the night. Tomorrow they start for a place near Paris. The good doctor goes with them."

Tuberculosis Claims Victim

J. Hulbert, son of H. Hulbert, died at the home of his parents at 1115 Clinton avenue Friday night. Tuberculosis is given as the cause of death.

Hulbert had been sick some five months and contracted the disease while working in a mine. He leaves a wife and small child.

The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Bert Curry, and will be cremated in Oakland tomorrow.

IS MADE DIRECTOR

Rev. H. K. Sanborne returned yesterday from a week end trip to Mt. Herman, in the Santa Cruz Mountains. He attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Mt. Herman Association and was placed on the board to arrange for the coming summer assembly at Mt. Herman.

A 25c bottle of Disinfectine will guard you against blood poisoning for a year. At all druggists.

CHEEK'S BOOZE BREAKS UP FAMILY

Wife Thrown Outdoors; Children Starve; Father Jailed

Joe Jacobs, the man responsible for the charges against the Frank Cheek saloon, is in the city jail today under $500 bonds, and charged with cruelty. The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Mrs. Clara Wilson.

When Jacobs returned with his wife last night after a meting before Mayor Lane, Attorney Hall, Mrs. Wilson, Rev. Sanborne, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, and Frank Cheek, to confer on charges against Cheek, as stated in the News Saturday morning, Jacobs locked his wife out of the house. She was but partially dressed and barefoot. She stayed out in the back yard in the cold all night, begging him at intervals to let her in to take care of the children. Each time he refused, telling her to go away, to go anywhere, but leave the babies. Until 2 o'clock in the morning she was not admitted, then he let her in to make some tea. He diluted the tea with whiskey and put her out again. During the night he drank a quart of whiskey obtained at Cheek's.

At one time during the evening Mrs. Jacobs brought over the man who runs the grocery store in that neighborhood to intercede for her, but that proved futile. To keep herself from freezing, for a bitter cold wind was blowing, Mrs. Jacobs borrowed a coat from one of the neighbors.

When daylight came Mrs. Jacobs again tried to enter but was refused. She went over to the home of Mrs. John Chandler, near the Cheek saloon, crying, saying that her husband refused her entrance to her home. Clara Wilson was at the Chandler home, and the three of them went back to the Jacobs house. They made entrance without difficulty, but Jacobs objected to them dressing the children. The women had to use force to get anything done. They threatened him with the police but he said he wouldn't let a policeman in the house. It finally being obvious that no other course was possible, Mrs. Wilson swore out a warrant and Officer Shirley came to the house. Jacobs offered no resistance.

Before leaving, Officer Shirley asked Jacobs where his whiskey jug was. He brought it in willingly and asked the officer to take a "shot." Shirley refused, and Mrs. Wilson emptied the stuff into the sink.

Mrs. Jacobs says that she has stood this sort of thing for five years. She has not had the courage tto tell the autrorities about her persecutions before, but this last has been too much. Her children have been abused, she has been beaten and her home broken up, all for whiskey.

When Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Chandler returned with her to her home yesterday morning one little child, under 3 years of age, sat on the floor with a cloth around one of its feet in lieu of shoes and stockings.

BOLSHEVIKI TO WAGE DEATH WAR

PETROGRAD, Friday, Jan 25 Addressing a meeting of the Keksholm Guards today, Ensign Krylenko, the Bolsheviki commander in chief, declared that while he believed in the freedom of speech, all liberties must be set aside during the struggle with the bourgeoise.

"We uphold the power of the workmen's and soldiers' delegates," said Krylenko, "and shall shirk from nothing, not even from spreading wholesale terror and woe to all who attempt to cross our path. We must not stop short in our reign of terror until we have completely exterminated all our enemies. Vengeance on them to the end, and without mercy."

SAN PABLO DAM SUPPLY 14 BILLION GALLONS

To adequately cope with the increased consumption of water, which will be certain with a much larger population in the east bay district, which is freely predicted by the most conservative within the next ten years, officers of the East Bay Water Company are looking forward to the completion of the new San Pablo project, which is promised by Bates & Borland, the contractors, in June, 1919.

With the completion of the new water shed in San Pablo canyon, the present water supply will be increased by fourteen billion gallons. The present daily supply will be increased by thirteen million gallons. This increased consumption, based on calculations for the most drastic period of drought on record, will sup-ply at least 200,000 additional inhabitants.

Loosers Banquet Winners To-morrow

Tomorrow night the losers of the recent membership campaign of the Royal Neighbors will banquet the winners in Pythian Castle. There will also be dancing and a general social time.

The committee to be in charge, taken from among those in the losing side, consist of Mesdames Blanche Pearson, chairman, Mae Hebhart, Josephine Washburn, Velma Wilkenson and Mary Conway.

SIX HUNDRED SLACKERS

Chief Clerk Clare D. Horner made the statement Friday morning that there would be close to 600 slackers on the list for District No. 1, which is around Martinez. This means there 600 of the 3438 registrants who have not filled out and returned their questionaires.

All the names will be placed in A 1 classification and submitted to authorities with a request for their apprehension. The men, when found, are liable to immediate entrainment.

MARRIED LAST NIGHT

Henry McKallor, age 34, of Fruitvale, and Miss Ida Smith, aged 34, of Fruitvale, were married at the home of Rev. Sanborne last night. McKallor is a builder. The couple left last night for a month's honeymoon. They will make their home in Oakland upon their return.

RICHMOND MFG. OUTPUT $68,400,000 ANNUALLY

Oakland Enquirer, Reviewing East Bay Industries, Pays Glowing Tribute to This City

The Standard Oil Company and the Santa Fe Company were the pioneer enterprises which settled upon Richmond for the location of important projects. Many others followed until now the city has at least twenty-seven busy manufacturing enterprises of various kinds with increasing payrolls and a combined output which is very large.

A conservative estimate places the total manufacturing output of the industries of Richmond at $68,400,000 annually. The variety of products handled in the city and made up by its factories includes oils of every variety, copra products, asphalt, crushed rock, paints, roofing and wall board, ice, dynamite cans, wines, matches, plumbing fixtures, porcelain tubs, wash trays, toilet fixtures, knit goods, dyes, pressed brick, iron moulds, phosphates and other chemicals, potash products, steel pipe and many other products.

Industrial City

The nature of its situation on the bay with splendid shipping facilities by water and rail has made Richmond essentially an industrial city. As such it has become the home of a substantial working class of people. There are very few of the floating labor type. Most of the citizens are employed in the manufacturing industries and hold down jobs of trust. Many are artisans of the highest class. To handle the details of office work and every industry maintains in Richmond a good corps of clerks and specialists.

Good Wages

As a result of the good wages paid and the substantial nature of the industries, the working people of Richmond in most cases own their homes. Being a city of families who want the best for their children, the people through their representatives and by direct vote have provided every possible means of education.

Richmond Harbor

The development of the Richmond harbor is looked upon as one of the most promising features of the many-sided activities of he new municipality. Several years ago leaders in Richmond promotion work saw that deep water was to be the making of Richmond industrially and commercially. With deep water facilities in the older cities rapidly filling up Richmond anticipated the time when manufacturers and shippers would be forced to come northward along the bay shore. Already the Standard Oil and other manufacturing plants were making use of the deep water in the outer harbor. The far-sighted ones saw that a protected, landlocked ahrbor with ample dockage facilities would be an immense factor in supplying the coming needs. Those needs have been hastened by the war and so has the efforts of the city officials to get the harbor into shape.

Nicholl Terminal

A hundred acres of land next to the wharf have been leased by the Nicholl Terminal Company, which is backed by McArthur-Perkins, the big English engineering concern. An elaborate system of storehouses, wharves, docks and other features is intended by the terminal company which has entered into an agreement with the city for filling the land behind the outer-line bulkhead.

Captain Narbett Gets Snowbound

Captain James T. Narbett has been heard from and writes of his experiences on his journey to Chicago. Says he arrived there in a terrific blizzard, thirteen hours late without lights. With the assistance of several lawyers the passengers got their baggage together and left on the Pennsylvania-Columbus train at night and spent that night and all the next day stalled in a snow drift five miles out of Chicago. He says fifteen below, with snow blowing, is not a pleasant sensation. The following day they were all crowded into the day coach and with the assistance of three powerful engines the one car was pulled back to Chicago. It was expected they would get away again within a few hours and their destination would be Fort Lee, Virginia.—Crockett Signal.

TAXING LAND VALUES

The North Dakota farmers have made a clean sweep of the middle-men and also of old line politicians. Also, in their platform they declare for the exemption from taxation of all crops and improvements on land, the deficit to be made up by increased taxation on land values.

In this there is a very good lesson. Why should anybody be penalized because of the work he does and the improvements he makes? He should not.

If, under our present faulty tax system, one man owns a lot and lets it lie idle years and years and years, who builds a house or a store building on the adjoining lot, is taxed heavily on every bit of the improvement he has created. The building enhances materially the value of the vacant lot, and the owner raises the price accordingly, but his little no-account tax goes right on as ever. The same applies to a farm.

Non-resident lot owners of Richmond are doing more to hinder the growth of the city than any other cause. They will not build and because of the improvements made by others they have raised their prices and valuations abnormally, yet they pay no taxes in comparison to those who have improved their property. This is all wrong, and needs adjusting by law. Taxation on all unimproved property should be raised, and the taxes upon improvements be removed entirely.

Those who own vast unimproved tracts fight this strenuously, and are short-sighted in doing so. Take the Miller & Lux holdings in California, for instance. They own hundreds of thousands of acres of idle, unimproved land, which they cannot sell at any price. But if farmers knew that they were not going to be taxed upon the improvements they make, it would create a big demand for all that idle land, and a good market for it.

This is something that is growing all the time, and is coming, and people may as well begin to study it up and come to understand it first as last.

No man should be penalized upon the products of his own labor. And no man should be allowed to sit down and get rich because of the labor of his fellow man, unless he at least bear his fair share of taxation and the expense of government.

Tribal Indians are not subject to draft, although they ought to feel right at home fighting Prussians, their ethics of warfare are so similar.

The Russian giant has had another sudden awakening, but somehow he doesn't amount to much when he is awake.

That gentleman who is so solicitous about your welfare probably is a life insurance agent.

ADVERTISING AND CREDIT

The president of one of the biggest banks in America recently remarked: "When we find a customer cutting down in his advertising we begin to cut down on his credit." Banks are numbered among the biggest advertisers these days, and banks know the necessity of advertising space.

The bank is just exactly right about this. There is no better sign of a business man slipping backward than the fact that he quits advertising. And banks know this very well.

The German ruling classes have the instincts of the barbarian, the venom of the rattlesnake and the easy conscience of the devil-fish.

We still contend it would be a good idea to send a few train loads of Japanese into Russia to show the Russians how to fight, as they did so successfully in an earlier war.

The German and Austrian Imperial Chancellors now want more peace terms outlined by the United States and allies. No attention should be paid to them. Our peace terms have been given out and we should stand pat on them, and that's all there is to it. All this palaver business is horse play. That is what got Russia in bad. They know what our peace terms are. Let them accept them or fight, and keep right on fighting until they are ready to accept them.

No dependence whatever can be placed upon a single thing that Germany says. It is all lies, lies, lies, intrigue, deceit and devilish duplicity. Blow them off the face of the earth. There s nothing else to do.

The Senators and Congressmen who are stirring up partisan politics at this time should be relegated to oblivion at the coming election. When the house is on fire is no time to argue about trifles.

Mistakes are bound to be made in such a big undertaking as this war. It is to be expected. Bigger and worse mistakes were made in the Spanish war than have been made in this one, and more profiteering and rascality was rampant. And McKinley was president them, with a Republican administration. In the first place there never was any excuse whatever for any Spanish war at all. The Maine was blown up from a cigarette within, and not from a mine without.

While praying for a favor in the future very few people mention the blessings of the past. There is small wonder that only a few prapers are answered.

This "proletariat" you read so much about lately, in dispatches from Russia and elsewhere, means the great mass of common people. My candid opinion of the proletariat is that it is a great big nothing, and I happen to know something about it, because I am one of them and have mixed with them all my life.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH TO HOLD STREET MEETINGS

Calvary church has been crowded Sunday after Sunday at her evening meetings, but, wishing to meet the non-church goers and to increase her service to the public, Christian leaders of the church are planning to conduct open-air evangelistic meetings on Macdonald, near Sixth street, every Saturday night at 7:30.

A folding Bilhorn organ has been secured and a chorus of young people will meet to sing the old-time songs, following which a brief vital message will be given.

While this may be a novel effort for Richmond, it has been carried on by many churches during the summer time throughout the world.

Red Cross Adds Mew Department

Another department has been added to the American Red Cross, that of the Bureau of Communication. The purpose of this department is to supply information to relatives of the sick, wounded or imprisoned soldiers in France. Main offices will be in Washington, D. C., with the information fathering office in Paris, France.

At present, in case of any casualy, the War Department merely sends notice of the fact. The relative at once becomes frantic with anxiety, wanting more information. The Bureau of Communication will attempt to gather all such information and submit to the inquirer by a personal letter.. Messages from the wounded will be transmitted in the same.

All communications should be addressed to the American Red Cross, Bureau of Communication, Washington, D. C.

Another child, a few years older, had tried to boil some chopped-up cabbage and to roast one potato, in an attempt to get something to eat. She proudly showed her mother the result of her ecorts when she came in. Mrs. Jacobs is staying at the home of Mrs. Chandler. She will remain until some other provision is made for her.

Jacobs is trying to force his wife to withdraw the charges against Cheek; Cheek is trying to get Jacobs out of jail, and both of them are to bad.

This low-down saloon bum of Cheek has got to be put of of business, and we have no doubt the city council will give him short shift this time, but if they don't, then there are plenty of good men in this town who will, even if drastic measures are necessary.

Also, the poor befuddled whisky soak who is beating up and abusing his frail little wife, neglecting, starving and otherwise abusing these two little children, all on account of Cheek and his rotgut booze, has got to be given to understand that the good men and women of Richmond will not stand for any more of that sort of thing, and if it is necessary, to give him a bath in the bay in order to soak out the whisky and beat a few grains of sense into his addled brains, that will be done, also.

At a late hour last night he was still in jail, Chief of Police Walker declining to listen to any bond propositions as long as the man was drunk.

PACKERS WOULD CONTROL INVESTIGATORS

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Subtle efforts of the "packers' trust" to smash the proposed investigation into their business or failing in this, to control the probe itself, were revealed in correspondence laid before the federal trade commission by Chief Investigator Heney today.

The machinations of the packers extended, according to the evidence, from propaganda flooding congress, to attempts at placing their own counsel as chief investigator of the federal trade commission.

COUNTY TRAVELOGUE BY PINOLE PHILOSOPHER

Editor Ed Ebsen of the Pinole Times, crawled out of his cyclone or potato cellar yesterday, where he has been hibernating since war was declared, and a la groundhob, not seeing his shadow, it being foggy, he walked on up the S. P. track and took a slant at the country. He writes down what he saw in so interesting a manner that we are reproducing it herewith, as follows, to-wit:

From Richmond to the San Joaquin and from the bay shore to and beyond the "shadows of old Diablo," there is always something doing in little old Contra Costa—the best county in the state, do you mind. At various points war has increased the activity, but, in a general way, there's big improvement which is quite noticeable.

Richmond, the city of promise, is gaining steadily and has unyoked the slowly plodding oxen of discontent for the fleet-winged carrier of pprosperity—unity.

Poor little old San Pablo, the first settlement in Contra Costa, hasn't got the ghost of a show for advancement. Around this burg is fastened one of Richmond's unbreakable tenacles, and it's hugging her pretty tight. Although such conditions exist, once in a while, as you slide by on a S. P. train, you will notice there's a new chicken or two added to the flock that scratches for daily rations about the railroad station. Some improvement, anyway.

There is much activity at the little town of Giant (which will soon be annexed to Pinole, Richmond's protests notwithstanding) in the way of building cottages and enlarging the powder plant. The purchase of the valuable Kearny ranch by the powder company means that there is something in the air of a spreading-out nature. She's growing in this direction and Pinole is growing in that direction and the two big powder plants at either end are almost certain to force the towns together. No, here's no particular rush about grabbing town lots, but a stitch in time is often a good investment.

Hercules and Pinole have about doubled in population in the past year and it is reasonable to make the statement that these towns display more industrial activity han any ohter two towns in the county. Of course, this is all owing to the enlargement of the Hercules powder plant, which, by the way, is a world-beater in size. The inner workings of this gigantic institution are too intricate to receive mention in this brief review, but, nevertheless, there's an air of progress in this vicinity and we're going to breathe that air for some time to come.

You can now judge a town't activity by the number of girls who hang about the railroad station on Sunday afternoon and chew gum. There is a war tax on gum and there is a certain air of prosperity about the chewer that speaks for itself. Rodeo has been on the boom for some time and the general activity in that locality is attributed to the large oil industry at Oleum and a smaller, but very busy plant, right in the town of Rodeo.

Oleum, though not a very large settlement ofof residential people, is the home of the big Union Oil Company's plant, which is now doing a large business. Hinton, Al. Owens, Brown, Skehen, Shank Sharp, and all the rest of those big guns in oil deals, can be found at this plant and they're all paying income taxes.

Tormey and Selby are more prosperous than usual, the big smelter at the latter place working full blast day and night.

From Martinez on up the line to where the Byron Times man snares jack rabbits as big as mules, there is a general building up of industries and we of Contra Coota must realize that San Francisco and Alameda counties are mere four-flushers when it comes to genuine industrial activity.

PINOLE SALOON ROBBED

Thursday afternoon, while away from his saloon at Pinole for a few minutes, John Vincent returned to find the till minus some $32, half a bottle of gin and a bottle of apricot brandy missing. Suspicion was directed to E. P. Clifford and L. Rolston, employes of the powder works, and they were arrested and jailed. They maintain they are innocent of the crime, but the police claim evidence against them is conclusive.

CHECK FORGER BUSY

Two checks, one for $45 and the other for $35, issued at Los Angeles, presumably by a printer who has worked in Richmond, cashed there, and sent here for collection, were declared at once by J. F. Galvin of the Independent, as forgeries. The checks were signed by John Galvin and made payable to J. A. Hoskins. The man in Los Angeles who cashed them will be the loser.

Good Vaudeville at T & D Today

A real Irish comedy, presented by Dan Kelly and Company, heads the bill at the Richmond Theater to-day. The title is "Young Heads and Old Hearts." The acrobatic work of Violet and charles is another feature of the bill. The act has claimed some distinction on larger circuits. A musical act by Mirian Miller and Madame Floyd is something new in music. Miller is an accomplished player of instruments and Madame Floyd sings a number of very good operatice pieces.

The feature picture for the day is "Men of the Desert," a thrilling play of the Southwest, presented by Essany. A Pathe-Hearst news is also soheduled.
